SEMI PERMANENT MAKEUP

HEALING SCHEDULE

Results vary from skin type to skin type but the following schedules give you an idea:

Lips

Day one - swelling, tender, heavy lipstick look, red brick colour

Day two - less swelling, red colour, tender, metallic taste

Day three - less swelling, red colour, sore, hot, orange in colour

Day four - exfoliation begins, tender lips, lips look and feel chapped

Day five - chapping stage, very dry lips

Day six - soft rich colour starts to appear

Days 7-14 - colour will disappear, don't worry! This is the second chapping stage called frosting where the lips turn opaque and grey underneath as the healing takes place it conceals the colour

Day 14 - the colour blooms from within more and more each day until day 21

Note - the temperature of your lips effect the colour, when lips are cool, and blue you will see the colour more, when they are hot and lips are red you will see the colour less

HEALING SCHEDULE

Results vary from skin type to skin type but the following schedules give you an idea:

Eyebrows

Day one - brows can be 70% darker and 25% bolder in width than they are once healed.

Day two to three - exfoliation process will begin, excess pigment surrounding the eyebrow will flake away and a more narrow and neutral appearance will appear

Day four - itchy and skin begins to flake, do not pick the scabs

Day five - could look patchy where only some scabs have fallen off, this is completely normal

Day six - colour finishes flaking off, brows will appear softer and greyer for a few days

Day twenty one - colour is fully healed and clarified, now, just three weeks to go until your six week top up to adjust any shape, intensify colour and make warmer or cooler as needed

HEALING SCHEDULE

Results vary from skin type to skin type but the following schedules give you an idea:

Eyeliner/eyelash Enhancement

Day one - swollen, looks like you have been crying, heavy make up look

Day two - swollen in the morning, still heavy make up look

Day three - swelling goes down and pigment lifts away from the skin (do not pick)

Day four - swelling goes down more, it's normal for it to feel itchy, do not pick

Day five - scabs come off and will reveal a disappointing thin greyish line, this will slowly intensify in clarity

Day twenty one - this is full colour, top up can be undertaken
